

Hospice Massage Therapy Volunteers

We are seeking certified massage therapists to share their gift of touch directly with our hospice patients and families. Our bodies are rarely more fragile than in the first few months of our life and our last few months. A massage is a beautiful and beneficial experience for a person nearing the final phase of their life. Massage therapy volunteers provide hands-on comfort to our patients, and enhance the end-of-life care provided by our team of nurses, doctors, social workers, chaplains and home health aides.

Lifetime Care is seeking volunteers with an affinity for touch to share their gifts with our patients and families.

We will provide a comprehensive hospice volunteer training program at no cost to you.

Our volunteers set their own schedules and there is no minimum time requirement. As little as one to two massages a month are greatly appreciated. Learn more about hospice care. Add experience to your resume. Gain a professional reference. Be part of a team

Benefits of Massage in End-of-Life Care:

Softening contracted or tight muscles

Reducing joint stiffness

Reducing anxiety

Improving circulation, which can ease breathing, induce more restful sleep, help improve digestion and elimination and temporarily improve mental clarity

Make a difference in a critical time in someone's life

For more information,
please contact:

Rose Fletcher
Manager, Volunteer Services
585.214.1444
rose.fletcher@lifetimecare.org

